

SCHOOL OF COMMUNICATION SCIENCE & DISORDERS

2014 UNDERGRADUATE ADMISSION APPLICATION

APPLICATION DEADLINE

The undergraduate major is a limited access program requiring a School application. Meeting the application eligibility requirements does not guarantee admission. Admission is available for the summer/fall semesters only and requires a minimum of two years to complete. Please note that major coursework begins in the fall semester.

To be considered for admission, students must complete the online registration form AND submit their paper-based application to the College of Communication and Information Advising Center University Center C, Suite 4115, by February 3, 2014 by 5 PM EST. Paper-based applications can be submitted beginning January 6, 2014 when the online registration form opens.

Students will be sent notification regarding their acceptance or denial through the e-mail address as listed on their online "Undergraduate Application Registration Form". Decisions will be released on Friday, February 28, 2014 by 5PM EST.

APPLICATION SUBMISSION ELIGIBILITY

Students who wish to major in Communication Science & Disorders must have fulfilled the following requirements by February 3, 2014, in order for the application to be reviewed:

1. Have an all-college GPA of a 3.0 or higher through fall 2013
2. Liberal Studies course substitutions, if applicable, must be approved by the appropriate dean and posted to the transcript.
3. All college credit must be posted to the transcript. Examples include, but are not limited to: AP, AICE, IB, dual-enrollment, CLEP and transient coursework.
4. All coursework for application eligibility must be reflected on submitted transcripts and/or spring 2014 class schedules by the application deadline

In addition, students who wish to major in Communication Science & Disorders must fulfill the following requirements, or earn an AA degree from a Florida public community-college or university, by the end of the spring semester 2014:

1. All FSU Liberal Studies courses must be successfully completed
2. All FSU Computation and Writing (W) courses must be successfully completed
3. Complete a minimum of 52 hours of undergraduate coursework accepted by FSU

If you do not meet all of the requirements stated above, you may not turn in an application for review

SCHOOL OF COMMUNICATION SCIENCE & DISORDERS 2014 UNDERGRADUATE ADMISSION CHECKLIST

Submitting the Application

Hand-delivered application materials should be submitted to:

College of Communication and Information Advising Center
University Center C, Suite 4115

Mailed application materials should be postmarked/date-stamped by February 3, 2014, and addressed to:

College of Communication and Information Advising Center
University Center, Bldg. C, Suite 4115

P.O. Box 3062651

Tallahassee, FL 32306-2651

Note: Request a delivery confirmation from your mailing agency

Application Checklist

All applicants must submit the following materials in this order:

- _____ 1. Signed copy of the application checklist (this page)
- _____ 2. Printed copy of the online Application Registration Form. Please be prepared to submit your contact information on the form. The online form will be made available in January 2014 at <http://commdisorders.cci.fsu.edu>.
- _____ 3. Printed unofficial transcript (transfer students, currently attending another institution, must submit an official transcript that reflects any and all college coursework attempted)
- _____ 4. Printed copy of your spring 2014 class schedule

Transfer students attending another institution other than FSU (including high school A.A. recipients) must also submit the following materials as part of their application.

- _____ 5. Transfer student verification form (page three of this document)
- _____ 6. Spring 2014 AA recipients must provide proof of graduation from their Registrar's office (See page three for acceptable forms of proof)

Transfer Students

Acceptance to the School of Communication Science and Disorders does not guarantee admission to The Florida State University. If you are not currently enrolled at FSU, you must also apply and be accepted to the University through the FSU Office of Admissions.

I have carefully read the School of Communication Science & Disorders Undergraduate Application Procedures, completed the application, and submitted the appropriate materials for review. I also understand admission to the Communication Science & Disorders program does not guarantee admission to the Florida State University Speech-Language Pathology graduate program.

Full Name: _____

Signature: _____

FSU students, FSUID: _____

Date: _____

This document is available in an alternative format from the School of Communication Science & Disorders

SCHOOL OF COMMUNICATION SCIENCE & DISORDERS

2014 UNDERGRADUATE ADMISSION APPLICATION

Transfer Student Application Verification Form – Please print for application package

Name of transfer institution: _____

Anticipated AA completion semester/year: _____

Completion of AA in spring 2014

- A student transferring to Florida State University from a Florida public community/junior college or senior institution will be deemed to have satisfied the University's Liberal Studies and Computation & Writing (W) requirement if all general education requirements stipulated by the community/junior College or senior institution have been met and are reflected on the student's transcript.
- A student transferring to Florida State University from a private or out-of-state community/junior college or senior institution will have their transcripts evaluated to determine if the student has met the University's Liberal Studies and Computation & Writing (W) requirements as set by Florida State University.

Completion of AA in summer 2014

- Regardless of the transferring institution, application eligibility will be determined based on whether the student has completed all of the Universities Liberal Studies and Computation & Writing (W) requirements as set by Florida State University by the end of the spring 2014 semester. It is expected that the student will utilize the summer 2014 semester to complete remaining elective credits needed to complete the AA degree as set by the student's current institution.

The Florida State University Liberal Studies and Computation & Writing (W) requirements can be viewed at <http://undergrad.fsu.edu/iaa.pdf>. Additional questions about these requirements should be directed to The Florida State University College of Communication & Information Advising Center (850-644-7278).

TRANSFER STUDENTS MUST ALSO INCLUDE THE BELOW INFORMATION AS PART OF THE SCHOOL OF COMMUNICATION SCIENCE & DISORDERS APPLICATION PACKAGE:

- Official Transcript (include as part of your application package. DO NOT send transcripts separately).
- Students receiving an AA in spring 2014 must provide proof of graduation. Proof is defined as a completed application to graduate (which must have a signature of a university official) or letter from the Registrar indicating when the AA degree will be completed. Failure to provide such information will result in the student being evaluated according to Florida State University's individual Liberal Studies and Computation & Writing (W) requirements.
- Students simultaneously earning a high school diploma and AA degree at the end of the spring 2014 semester can submit a letter from the AA institution denoting the AA degree will be completed and posted upon completion of the high school diploma.

I understand that the information I have provided about my transfer status will determine how my application is evaluated in terms of eligibility.

Signature: _____

Date: _____